Townscaper VR

Build quaint island towns with curvy streets, small hamlets, soaring cathedrals, canal networks, or sky cities on stilts. Build the town of your dreams, block by block. No goal. No real gameplay. Just plenty of building and plenty of beauty. That's it. Townscaper is an experimental passion project. More of a toy than a game. Pick colors from the palette, plop down colored blocks of houses on the irregular grid, and watch Townscaper's underlying algorithm automatically turn those blocks into cute little houses, arches, stairways, bridges, and lush backyards, depending on their configuration.

Player Mode Descriptions

Player modes let you know what types of player movement an app, game, or experience supports. If more than one player is supported, you'll see more than one option listed. Some modes require additional configuration or equipment.

Sitting apps can be played while sitting and we recommend a play space with 3 feet of free room in all directions around where you are sitting. We also recommend using a rotating desk chair.

Standing apps can be played while standing and may require a small amount of movement. We recommend a play space with 3 feet of free room in all directions around where you are standing.

Roomscale apps and games require you to move anywhere in your play space. A minimum play space of 6.5 feet by 6.5 feet is needed, but some apps might require a larger player space.
